Information about patients may be disclosed in consultations with other professionals in order to provide the best possible treatment. In such cases, the name of the patient, or any identifying information, is not disclosed. Clinical information about the patient is discussed.

In some cases, notes and reports are dictated/typed within the practice or by outside sources specializing (and held accountable) for such procedures.

When couples, groups, or families are receiving services, separate files are kept for individuals for information disclosed that is of a confidential nature. This information includes (a) testing results, (b) information given to the mental health professional not in the presence of other person{s) utilizing services, (e) information received from other sources about the client, (d) diagnosis, (e) treatment plan, (f) individual reports/summaries and (g) information that has been requested to be separate, The material disclosed in conjoint family or couples' sessions, in which each party discloses such information in each other's presence is kept in each file in the form of case notes.

One Effort We Make to Ensure Your Confidentiality Is in Leaving Phone Messages:

In the event in which the practice or mental health professional must PHONE/TEXT the patient for purposes such as appointment cancellations or reminders or to give/receive other information, efforts are made to preserve confidentiality. Please list where we may reach you by phone and how you would like us to identify ourselves. For example, you might request that when we phone you at home or work, we do not say the name of the practice or the nature of the call, but rather the mental health professional's first name only.

If this information is not provided to us (below), we will adhere to the following procedures when making phone calls: First we will ask to speak to the patient/guardian without identifying the name of the practice. If the person answering the phone asks for more identifying information, we will say that it is Dr. Kothari's office calling and asking for a call back as appropriate. If we reach a voicemail, we will follow the same guidelines.

PLEASE CHECK PLACES WHERE YOU CAN BE REACHED BY PHONE
Include phone numbers and how you would like us to identify ourselves when phoning you.
Home:_____ May we say practice name, If not then what? _____
Cell: _____ May we say practice name, If not then what? _____
Work: _____ May we say practice name, If not then what? _____

I agree with the above limits of confidentiality and understand their meanings and ramifications.

Pharmacy Policy

Due to the heavy volume of incoming pharmacy faxes, Dr. Kothari requires that the patient or family member, if appropriate (consent on file) call for medication refill if needed. Office will not respond to pharmacy refill requests.
Many faxes are on auto refill, and they are not patient generated. Patient and/or family members agree to call the office and not the pharmacy for refills. We require a 72-hour notice for prescription refills and prior authorizations.

LIMITS OF CONFIDENTIALITY

The contents of an intake or assessment session are considered confidential. Both verbal information and written records about a client cannot be shared with another party without the written consent of the patient or the patient's legal guardian. It is the policy of this practice not to release any information or written records about a client with another party without the written prior consent of the patient, without a signed release of information.
There are times we have a legal obligation to release information, these include the following:

1. Duty to Warn and Protect
When a client discloses intention or a plan to harm another person, the healthcare professional is required to warn the intended victim and report this information to legal authorities. In cases in which the patient discloses or implies a plan for suicide, the health care professional is required to notify legal authorities and make reasonable attempts to notify the family of the patient.

2. Abuse of Children and Vulnerable Adults
If a patient states or suggests that he or she is abusing a child (or vulnerable adult) or has recently abused a child (or vulnerable adult) or a child (or vulnerable adult) is in danger of abuse, the health care professional is required to report this information to the appropriate social service and/or legal authorities

3. In the Event of a Patient's Death
In the event of a patient's death the spouse or parents of a deceased patient, have a right to access their spouse or child's records.

4. Professional Misconduct
Health care professionals are required to report professional misconduct by a health care professional. In cases in which a professional or legal disciplinary meeting is being held regarding the healthcare professional's actions, related records may be released in order to substantiate disciplinary concerns.

5. Court Order
Health care professionals are required to release records of clients when a court order has been placed.

6. Minors/Guardianship
Parents or legal guardians of non-emancipated minor patients have the right to access the patient's records.

7.Other Reasons information May Be Released
By choosing to use your insurance for psychiatric services, we are required to release certain information to the insurance company at their request. Information which may be requested includes the following: type of services, dates/time of services, treatment plan, description of impairment, case notes and summaries.

When fees for services are not paid in a timely manner, collection agencies may be utilized in collecting unpaid debts. The specific content of the services (e.g., diagnosis, treatment plan, case notes, testing) is not disclosed. If debt remains unpaid it may be reported to credit agencies and the client's credit report may state the amount owed, time, and the name of the practice.
